CHURCH NEWS

A few Saturdays ago we had an amazing trip to York Minster for the ordination of Simon Clark as a deacon. Next year he will become a priest and be able to do even more in the churches. Simon comes from Ottringham and works for the local authority, so is not a paid member of the clergy.

The churches of Easington, Hollym and Holmpton have started a small charity shop in Crossroads Nursery at Hollym. We found we were being offered second hand goods regularly and needed an outlet for these in a more public location. The money raised will go towards addressing the current shortfall in ministry costs. Please continue to offer your second hand goods for sale and do support the nursery if you are able. It has coffee shop facilities and serves food. We are really grateful for the offer of this public space.

During the school holidays we may be able to offer some confirmation sessions/ activities (for year 6 upwards) so let us know if you have youngsters who are interested.

FRIENDS OF EASINGTON CE PRIMARY ACADEMY

We have now reached the end of our academic and charity year so will be closing off our accounts and submitting them to the Charity Commission.

Huge thanks go to Perenco for their recent donation to the charity. Hopefully monies will be spent during the summer holidays in readiness to report to you all next academic year.

Finally, I wish to thank the FOS Team for their work and we look forward to supporting the school again next year.

SPURN BIRD OBSERVATORY

Beacon Lagoons Little Tern Colony update.

This season, we have had a minimum of 58 Little Terns sitting on nests making it one of the best years since the turn of the century. In turn, we have been seeing incredible numbers of youngsters since the later part of June with a minimum of 80 being seen in single scans of the colony. At least 25 have fledged so far too, with many more almost ready to do so this week. There are however just a couple of nests with small young so the season is far from over yet. We have also got six pairs of Avocet, seven pairs of Oystercatcher and twelve pairs of Ringed Plover.

We have also been completing some colony walk throughs to ring some of the chicks, we have ringed over 50 this season and put Darvic colour rings on seven making them easier to identify in the field. There have been some interesting adult Little Terns at the colony with Darvic rings from elsewhere, with one from Ireland in 2019 and another that was metal ringed at the Beacon Ponds colony in 2015 but had its Darvic added at Foulney Island in Cumbria in 2018. All in all, we hope to continue having a very successful season - maybe even have somewhere near 100 chicks fledge!

We would like to thank the local community for your cooperation on the beach during the breeding season again, without this, the colony would not be anywhere near as successful.
